

- 1) How much does your company spend, per year, on printed stationery?
- 2) How much does your company spend, per year, on envelopes?
- 3) How much does your company spend, per year, on postage?
- 4) How many order acknowledgements/delivery notes and invoices are generated by your company each month?
- 5) How many purchase orders and good received notes are printed each month?
- 6) How many statements and remittance advice notes are generated each month?
- 7) Would you like to present a modern, up to date image of your company on all outgoing documents?

Take this example from one of our customers:

Prior to implementing Spindle Professional, Company A prints 450 documents each month for customers & suppliers (orders, acknowledgements etc, excluding output from Accounts dept)

These 450 documents were printed on a pre-printed stationery, placed in an envelope and posted

450 x 41p (1st class stamp) plus 450 x 7.5p (approx price of printing + envelope) = £218.25 (excluding cost of labour)

£218.25 x 12 months = £2,619.00

Spindle Professional 2009 can save you time and money!

Key Benefits

- Dramatically reduces costs
document delivery by email and fax, saving on postal costs
- Intelligent delivery
Spindle Professional knows what to fax, what to email and what to print
- Flexible automatically add terms and conditions, seasonal or promotional messages
- Saves money and wastage
use plain paper instead of expensive pre-printed stationery
- Emails and archives
documents are sent and stored as Adobe PDF files

A 5 user licence is £1,620 (plus support £370.00 per annum)

Taking the above example:

Year 1 - savings £629.00

Year 2 - savings £1,250.00

This is just a very quick example. You can calculate exact costs by using the Draycir ROI calculator to work out how much you can save

Our customers tell us that using Spindle to distribute documents such as letters, statements, invoices, remittances, delivery notes and purchase orders has reduced their costs, their workload and have been able to portray a more professional image of their company to customers and suppliers.

Contact us for more details or to attend a webinar